VISAS

Federal immigration law allow various ways for a non-citizen of the United States to become a permanent resident. EMPLOYER COMPLIANCE

Navigating the hazardous waters of U.S. Immigration Law is becoming more and more difficult for employers. The safe harbors that were once in place to protect employers from consequences for hiring unauthorized workers are not what they once were. Our experienced Business Immigration attorneys assist businesses of all sizes on employer compliance issues, and offer auditing and educational services to minimize their exposure to discrimination lawsuits and audits by the government. We also help businesses with getting workers into the country legally through employment visas. Learn more >
